

Hello from Jennyruth Workshops

Look

We are now entering the third week of our online activities. Staff are so happy to be connecting with the workers on such a regular basis and are delighted when they see the work produced afterwards on our private Facebook page.

We are now sharing the joy to others by sharing some of our activity ideas via our social media. Look out on our Facebook, Instagram and Twitter pages.

A few reminders about being online and using social media:

- Staff, volunteers and trustees cannot accept friend requests from workers.
- Our Facebook group should be a happy place for us all to connect. We should be kind at all times.

COMING SOON – an online safety workshop – look out for details in a future bulletin.
